By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The next step in the Middle East crisis depends on whether Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev accepts the challenge to a summit meeting in the U.N. Security Council.

Khrushchev today presumably was making up his mind whether to insist on his own plan for a five-power summit meeting apart from the U.N., or agree to the suggestions of President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan for the high-level meeting here.

Moscow dispatches said many diplomats there believed the Soviet leader would accept the Eisenhower-Macmillan suggestion though he might not like the setup.

But an article in Izvestia, the Soviet government newspaper, which apparently was written before the Eisenhower-Macmillan proposals were known officially, threw ice water on the U.N. summit idea.

The official Soviet news agency Tass distributed a report of the Izvestia article saying that "the United States rulers are seeking a suitable way to avoid" Khrushchev's proposal.

"It is common knowledge that the United States wields a mechanical majority in the Security Council. Does the United States really think that someone will agree to discuss cardinal international problems with Chiang Kai-shek (of Nationalist China) who holds a place in the Security Council thanks to his American patrons?"

Western observers in Moscow said they believe Khrushchev might find it difficult to reject the U. N. summit idea in view of his original offer to go anywhere for a meeting.

Auto, Appliances Sales Perk Up

By FRANK COMIER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Commerce Department says the recession slump in sales of autos, appliances and other consumer durables seems to have been substantially halted.

This appraisal came on the heels of a report by President Eisenhower's economic advisers that the national economy lifted upward in the April-June period for the first time in nearly a year.

The economists reported, however, that consumer purchases of durables continued to slump during the three-month period.

Looking at just the June figures the Commerce Department said: "The decline in outlays for consumer durables, which constituted the major area of recent weakness in consumers' buying, appeared to have been substantially arrested."

Commerce, in its monthly survey of current business, said June produced additional evidence of firmer business conditions.

Americans Like Sheep, Says Hope Minister

Russia and Communism are not as dangerous to the United States as the present trend of Americans to conform, declared the Rev. Rufus Sorrells, pastor of the First Methodist church, in a talk before the Lions club Monday noon.

"We are beginning to think like sheep . . . we want to be popular . . . we don't think . . . we want to be alike," said the minister, who told the Lions a leading Arkansas politician in Washington had told him he could not say what he thinks about certain important state issues and be reelected.

The Lions were urged to think for themselves, to have the courage of their convictions and at the same time to respect the rights of others to express their convictions.

Membership certificates were given to Y. C. Coleman, the Rev. Mr. Sorrells, Raymond Hughes, Creighton Middlebrooks and Clyde Montz. By President W. R. Gunter, Frank King was in charge of the program. Guests included Pat Minshew and Katy, Texas.

Venezuela Rule Appears on Way Out

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—A demonstration by some 100,000 Venezuelans forced the resignation today of Defense Minister Gen. Carlos Leon after he sought to assert political power for the army.

Gen. Carlos Leon had served an ultimatum on Rear Adm. Wolf, Gen. Larrazabal, president of Venezuela's five-man ruling junta, in what looked like the first step in a plan to oust the government.

Venezuelans regarded the plan as a showdown between the people and the military, which traditionally has ruled this oil-rich nation. Students, professional people and workers assembled in front of the government palace until after midnight in support of the junta which overthrew the military dictatorship of Marcos Jimenez exactly six months ago.

Scoble said there was a shortage of oxygen masks when firemen arrived. Firemen obtained some from a nearby funeral home. Eisenberg said he and three employees were in the shop when they smelled smoke.

Scoble said the phosphene gas developed when a substance used to clean furs combined with heat from the fire. He said the gas is poisonous.

Rep. Powell Must Stand Tax Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal judge has ruled that Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. (D-N.Y.) must stand trial for alleged income tax evasion.

Judge William B. Horland ruled Tuesday that the indictment charging Powell is valid.

The Negro congressman had sought to have the indictment thrown out.

Powell is charged with preparing a false 1951 income tax return for his wife, pianist Hazel Scott, a Negro, and with evading approximately $3,000 in a joint return for 1952. No charge was made against the wife.

McNab Baptists to Hold a Revival

A revival meeting starts July 27 at the First Baptist Church of McNab and will continue through August 3 with nightly services at 7:30 o'clock, according to Mrs. Roy Lewis. Assisting the pastor, the Rev. L. W. Townsend, will be the Rev. D. O. Silvey.

In the Gubernatorial Campaign Faubus

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. Orval Faubus, holding to a tight campaign schedule, plans three speeches today as he continues his tour of northwest Arkansas.

Faubus put in a leisurely day of stumping yesterday as well. He spoke at Greenwood, Charleston and Clarksville and today intended to carry his third term bid to Van Buren, Ozark and Paris.

The governor renewed his denials of his gubernatorial opponents' charges that extravagance has marked the Faubus administration. At Greenwood, Faubus said that admitted the cost of state government had risen but it increased when we gave the aid promise more than they ever had before.

On their welfare gains and increased the teachers' salaries. Faubus again scoffed at the charge that he was a pro-segregationist.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Businessman Chris Finkbeiner last night threw a new accusation into the gubernatorial campaign's boiling pot of charges and counter-charges.

The Little Rock packing executive declared at Texarkana that Gov. Orval Faubus was "abusing his third term bid" with state funds.

Finkbeiner charged that his own backers in the border city were told by local officials of the state revenue department to get in touch with the Miller County campaign chairman for permission to distribute Finkbeiner campaign literature through the office.

The businessman candidate said his supporters made the request because the revenue office had been issuing bogus literature and displaying bogus receipts.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gubernatorial candidate Lou Ward of Paragould looked on a slant of charges against Gov. Orval Faubus last night, accusing the third term candidate of weakness.

Ward declared at Texarkana that he was "deliberately inciting and煽动ing toward the government" and "is a traitor to our land and our people."

Ward was referring in his latest speech to Faubus' insistence on states rights and his stand in the Little Rock integration crisis.

The judge declared that a political rally at Pine Bluff last Saturday night was an instance of a Faubus-directed mob demonstration.

Good Week for Arkansas Crops

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Cotton and most other major Arkansas crops made good progress during the past week, the Crop Reporting Service said today.

The service in its weekly summary said the hot nights and sunshine had helped cotton. It added that quite a lot, however, is making a rank growth at the expense of fruiting.

First generation boll weevils are emerging but so far little poisoning has been necessary, the service said. Red spider mites were reported damaging the crop in some counties.

Most rice is making normal growth and a good crop of early corn is assured in many counties, the service said.

Harvest of early peaches reached the peak during the week, according to the report.

Arnold Is a New FHA Committeeman

Richard B. Arnold, Rt. 3, Hope - DeAnn community, has been appointed as a member of the Hempstead County Farmers Home Administration Committee, W. M. Sparks, the agency's county supervisor, announced this week.

The other two members serving with Mr. Arnold are C. D. Lester, Hope, and W. Truman Hill, Ozan, Arkansas. Mr. Arnold succeeds Roy F. Fry, whose term expired this year.

Each agricultural county in Arkansas has a 3-member committee to work with the county supervisor to make the best possible local use of the agency's farm credit service program. The committee determines the eligibility of applicants for all types of Farmers Home Administration loans, and determines the suitability and fair and reasonable values of farms to be taken as security for real estate loans. It also reviews borrowers' progress as they pay for their FHA loans by means of improved farming and turn to banks and other lenders for the credit they need.

The committee elected C. D. Lester as its chairman at its first meeting, held on July 10.

Cost of Living Hits New Record, But Decline Indicated

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today reported living costs rose in June by less than one-tenth of 1 per cent to another record. But the tiny increase held a promise of a decline later.

The decline may come in the summer or early fall.

The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said its index rose to 123.7 per cent of the 1947-48 average. This means it costs about 24 cents more to buy what could be purchased for a dollar a decade ago.

The June living cost level was 2.9 per cent higher than the same month last year. It was the 20th time the official index has risen to new records in the past 22 months. There has been no decline since August 1956.

Ewan Clague, labor statistics commissioner, said the June hike was only fractional, "about as small as you can get and still have an increase in the index."

Clague said all signs pointed to a modest living cost decline in the next few months, particularly as food items become more plentiful. He said he could not guess whether this would be only temporary or would represent any lasting price decline.

Food prices normally decline in the summertime, when local vegetable crops come in and temporary cheaper grocery costs for housewives. But other costs have been mounting steadily, despite the recession.

The latest living cost rise means a wage boost, generally about one or two cents an hour, for some 575,000 workers in the electrical, manufacturing, aircraft, metal working, trucking, and chemical industries.

The pay increases come under labor contract clauses which gear pay rates partly to living cost changes.

Food prices, significantly, remained unchanged in June for the second straight month as average price declines for fresh vegetables of 17.7 per cent offset higher prices for fresh fruits, meats and restaurant meals. Food prices are 4.6 per cent above last year.

There were slight advances in prices of transportation, reading and recreation, medical care, and personal care. Housing costs failed to rise between May and June for the first month since July 1957.

AP&L Names New Project Manager

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—William M. Wolford has been named project manager for Arkansas Power and Light Co., steam electric generating station to be constructed at Helena, the company announced today.

Wolford has been associated with Ebasco Services, Inc., the New York firm which will build the plant, for the past 22 years.

In 1942 and 1943 he directed the construction of the No. 1 generating unit at AP&L's Cane Swan Electric Station at Stamps. He also has participated in other company projects in Arkansas.

Construction of the 325,000 kilowatt plant at Helena is in a preliminary stage.

Admiral Visions 'No Fighting' in Lebanon

By WILTON WYNN

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Admiral James L. Holloway said today: "I really think we can get out of Lebanon without any fighting." He added he doubts that World War III will start here.

The commander of all American forces in Lebanon recorded these statements for radio and television. He appeared along with U.S. Ambassador Robert McClintock.

Both expressed optimism over the outlook, not only in Lebanon but in respect to repercussions elsewhere to the arrival of American forces in this tiny Middle East nation.

Holloway and McClintock were asked their opinion on the possibility that the Lebanese situation might touch off a third World War.

The ambassador replied: "From my own political experience, I would say the danger of a third World War is very much reduced." Holloway concurred.

Holloway also said he sees no indications of the Russians becoming involved in the Lebanese problem. Asked whether he felt similarly about the United Arab Republic, he replied that "I would not appear that President Nasser will mount and launch a formal intervention in Lebanon."

Reporters asked both men about the possibility that American forces might be used to assist Jordan's King Hussein. Holloway did not reply directly but said: "The U.S. Marines and Army have the capacity for quick shifts and movements."

In a formal statement, McClintock said: "We are here to help and not to take over."

Meanwhile, Speaker Abdul Qader postponed Parliament's election of a new president "for one week, his apparently was to gain time in the search for a candidate acceptable to both the government and rebels."

Dixie Beauties Dominate World Contest

By DIAL TORGERSON

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Fifteen beauties—almost half of them Southerners—carry United States hopes forward today toward the finals of the Miss Universe contest.

The U.S. contingent was cut one third Tuesday night when the judges took their first look at the entries in this year's beauty pageant.

The girls from Dixie took seven semifinal spots, with the judges nod going to representatives of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas.

The others picked were from California, Montana, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, Illinois, Nebraska and New York.

Some of those who lost out look so hard their chaperones cried too.

But blonde, statuesque Miss New Hampshire didn't take it that way. Patricia Larabee, 19, Salem, told a reporter: "I'm relieved. Now that the tension is all gone, I can enjoy myself."

Tougher the 15 will be narrowed to 5 and the 5 to 3. Miss U.S.A. who will see her bet with the judges' audience, and the photo is clear: Miss Louisiana.

Evelyn Howell, a long, lanky blonde, hair swept back from her forehead, drew the loudest burst of applause from the 400 spectators as she swept down the runway.

Spends More Time Yearning for What He Wants Than in Enjoying What He Really Has

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Man tends to spend more time yearning for what he wants than enjoying what he has.

Did you ever sit and make a catalogue of your personal pleasures, things past or present that have helped to make your life add up to more—and you'd hate to be without or never to have known. You may be pleasantly surprised to find how many things in this world have meant journey through it memorable.

Here's one man's impromptu list:

Cigars, nylon socks and the Notre Dame football team in a vintage year.

Girls.

The crooning of Bing Crosby when the world was younger, Helen Hayes in any play.

The old movies of Charlie Chaplin and W. C. Fields.

Vanilla ice cream, Strawberry shortcake, corn on the cob, and the unforgettable taste of a lamb's eyeball at an Arab barbecue in the Algerian desert.

Climbing to the top of the Eiffel Tower in August, 1945. And to the dome of St. Peter's in Rome in 1940. And the Great Pyramid out, side Cairo in 1954.

Asking the first girl I ever dated in high school to go sit in the park on the way home from the prom and her immortal answer: "What for?"

Sitting on the front porch of the old family home on a summer night long ago listening to my father explain the mysteries of life, politics, baseball, and why women are so unpredictable.

Shaving with champagne one morning when we ran out of water in the march across France. Walking home in London in wartime during a blackout lit only by bombursts.

The beautiful, beautiful girls of Ball.

The mystic ecstasy of a full moon at harvest time in Kansas. The infinite satisfaction of suddenly realizing you live in a house in which your dog, your child and your wife are all happy there together, and not one would rather be anywhere else.

The taste of snow when very young. The feeling of inner virtue that comes with solving on the wagon when considerably older.

The prose of Jonathan Swift, the Bible, Thomas Hardy, R. L. Stevenson, George Bernard Shaw, and H. L. Mencken. And the poetry of Shakespeare, Keats, A. E. Housman and Emily Dickinson.

The catharsis of the soul that comes with watching a mighty thunder and lightning storm on the Great Plains at night.

The drama behind the drama of a Broadway opening. The wonderful, wonderful windows of Fifth Avenue.

Staying up on Saturday night to watch the late movies and no alarm clocks on Sunday.

The daily rut and the biweekly insult of the paycheck—the two things that make all the rest possible.

And what's on your list?

posal by candidate Chris Finkbeiner for reducing state governmental costs by 25 per cent without cutting services.

And the governor noted that opponent Lee Ward earned more money as a chancellor than Faubus.

"He is holding out only about 37 days a year and drawing more than I do working almost 350 days out of the year," Faubus said.

"He neglected to tell you about that."

Faubus vowed that if reelected he would boost welfare grants again as soon as feasible. Pointing out that his administration had raised the payments a maximum of $15, he added: "No one can live in decency even on the grant we pay them now."

The governor discussed the Little Rock integration crisis and reiterated previous statements that he would never use state guardsmen to "knock people in the head" in an integration dispute.

Finkbeiner

"That is dictatorial control," Finkbeiner asserted in his televised speech.

He said the official in charge of the revenue branch consulted Little Rock after the request was made and that later the Faubus material was removed.

The rest of Finkbeiner's speech dealt with his proposals for handling of the state welfare program, teachers' salaries and the segregation issue.

The candidate put in most of yesterday on a stumping tour of northeast Arkansas with stops at Arkansas City, McGehee, Dumas, Dermott, Lake Village and Eudora.

Finkbeiner gave Faubus credit for doing "some fine things in this state" but tempered the praise with a statement that the governor had created conditions unfavorable to these accomplishments.

Today Finkbeiner's schedule called for visits to Arkadelphia and Crossett and later to Memphis where he planned a television address.

Ward

Pine Bluff Junior Chamber of Commerce, the three Democratic gubernatorial candidates—Ward, Faubus and Chris Finkbeiner of Little Rock—made brief speeches.

Ward and Finkbeiner were heckled by some members of the audience.

The chancellor blamed the palling on persons who were not Pine Bluff residents. He said the group of hecklers was at the rally for the purpose of participating in a mob demonstration, calculated to put the fear of God into me or anyone else who might dare to oppose Generalissimo Orval Faubus.

Ward dwelt on reports that he was being forced out of the race because of low finances. He said he had been operating on a tight budget and had met difficulties in financing his campaign early because of what he termed pressure and intimidation by Faubus forces.

Finkbeiner said he would not quit. He added that since the race became current he had been making campaign donations that would enable him to keep up into reports that an Army general secretly "cashed" Central High five days before the paratroopers were sent there.

The inquiry was urged by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark). He said if the reports were true they indicated that the use of troops was "all planned and plotted to his face.

Ward reiterated his contention that integration problems could best be solved through congressional action and again said he would try to achieve this if he won the nomination.

Today Ward was scheduled to go to Huntsville, the governor's home town, for a political talk. He has dared Faubus to meet him there in public debate but the challenge has been ignored.

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld world today to reinforce the U.N. observer corps in Lebanon so American troops can pull out.
Hammarskjöld took the job on himself after the second Soviet veto in four days blocked Security Council efforts to ease the Middle East crisis. The Council adjourned indefinitely to await the secretary general's action and the outcome of negotiations for a summit meeting on the Middle East.

The United States and Britain suggested that the summit proposed by Soviet Premier Khrushchev be held within the Council, but the Soviet government opposed the idea. Its newspaper Izvestia said, "Everyone knows the U.S.A. can rely on a mechanical majority in the Security Council."

BEAT WEISENBERGER . . . BEAT MATHIS!

ELECT GEORGE EDWARDES PROSECUTING ATTORNEY

I am seeking the office of Prosecuting Attorney upon the basis of qualifications, experience, integrity and the character prerequisite to holding the office and performing the duties thereof with dignity and decency, with courage and with a love of fairness and justice.

Travis Mathis has already demonstrated four years ago that he was capable of badly defeating the other candidate. There are areas of opposition to the other candidate that can never be overcome. George Edwardes can defeat Travis Mathis.

In an ad-in the local papers of Arkadelphia and Hope, Travis Mathis made bold statements that he dared not print in the Texarkana papers, where his activities are known.

THE FACTS:

1. He admitted before Clark County citizens, at Alpine, Arkansas, that he had been requested to disqualify by W. T. Murphy of the Law Enforcement Committee of the Miller County Grand Jury, but represented that such action was by my friends who were trying to help me and embarrass him in this campaign, which I had not even entered at that time.

2. In his ad he stated, even denying his own Alpine speech, "instead of being asked to disqualify and step aside by the Grand Jury, Travis Mathis was given a vote of confidence by the Grand Jury and was commended by W. T. Murphy, Chairman of the Law Enforcement Committee as having properly discharged the duties of the Prosecuting Attorney's office in regard to alleged gambling operations."

THE VOTE OF CONFIDENCE: I call upon him to produce it. His statement is false, the record will not bear out his fantastic claim. No vote of confidence was given.

THE GRAND JURY REPORT: The Grand Jury official report specifically found that gambling had gone on in Miller County, and said in part: "WE CALL UPON ALL LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES IN MILLER COUNTY TO EXERCISE THEIR FULL RESOURCES IN PREVENTING A REOCCURRENCE OF GAMBLING IN PUBLIC PLACES IN TEXARKANA AND MILLER COUNTY." A certified copy of this report is being left at the office of the Circuit Clerk of Clark County where it may be examined by any interested citizen. This also is on record in Miller County. It will be mailed to any citizen on request.

TRAVIS MATHIS has a letter from a honorable man and high official pertaining to the request that he disqualify and get out of Miller County as Prosecuting Attorney in the case referred to. He admitted having such letter at Fouke, Miller County, Arkansas. I call upon him to print it so the people can see and know the facts.

In permitting Fugate to carry on his big time racketeering project in Miller County, involving Thousands of Dollars, without making an arrest for many months, I think we are entitled to deduct that that was immunity from arrest. The witness Ripley was produced by Police of Texarkana, and Mathis did not have advance knowledge he would appear before the Grand Jury. Mathis threatened to arrest Ripley, the witness against the gamblers, and I advised Mathis of the law that prevented the arrest of a witness attending Court. Mathis apparently did not know of that law. The Grand Jury returned an indictment. I showed the indictment in a television appearance July 21, 1958. Mr. Mathis, every word contained in my advertisement was true. I call upon you to offer evidence to the contrary.

1. Produce the vote of confidence, which does not exist except in his imagination.
2. Produce the letter you admitted receiving at Fouke, Arkansas. Let the people see it.

SOME OF HIS ACTIVITIES IN CLARK COUNTY:

Although he has an expense account of $3,400 per year, which is supposed to be the legal maximum and is all that is allowable to him he has drawn sums in excess of that.

1. In Clark County he drew Warrant No. 508 for $650.00 to cover the expense of an alleged trip to California. The statement of the witness had already been obtained and the trip was unnecessary. He admits this but tries to justify it. The law does not permit it.

2. He has drawn over $400 extra pay for his office force above the limit the law allows. I have a list of the warrants and if he dares deny this will publish the list and the name of the person to him payable.

3. He has received over $1,100 over and above his expense account. These are samples of his conduct and activities, and are a part of the record that he seeks an unmerited third term on.

George Edwardes is a capable and competent trial lawyer and will give you an honest and efficient administration as Prosecuting Attorney. He has had the courage to develop the issues in this campaign and no man is worthy to be Prosecuting Attorney who is not willing to do this.

My pledge to you is to conduct this office in such a clean, fair and efficient administration that when my two terms have expired you will say, "well done good and faithful servant."

Hear George Edwardes speak over KCMC-TV at 10:00 P. M., Thursday, July 24th; 3:45 P. M., Saturday, July 26th and 10:45 P. M., Monday, July 28th.

MOB RULE HAS NO PLACE IN THE GOVERNOR'S RACE!

Organized mob action such as the Saturday night rally at Pine Bluff is now showing up in the third-term candidate's desperate effort to grab dictatorial control of Arkansas. State employees are being told in no uncertain terms to show up at these rallies—or else! Only you and your vote stand between third-term dictator control and a progressive Arkansas. The key issue in this race is sincerity and integrity. Arkansas needs a businesslike administration to lower taxes, help small farmers, and bring harmony to all groups of citizens.

Cardinals Drop a Close Game to Loop Leaders

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Maybe the Milwaukee Braves aren't hurting so much after all. Hank Aaron is over .300 at last and they're no worse in the standings than they were a year ago, when they won the National League pennant and the world championship.

With Aaron going 4-for-4, upping his batting average to .303, the Braves beat the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1 Tuesday night. It was the only game played-rain washed out the rest—and put the champs within half a game of first-place San Francisco again.

In the American League, the New York Yankees belted Detroit 13-3, Kansas City beat Boston 4-3, the Chicago White Sox defeated Baltimore 4-2 and Cleveland won 5-3 in the nightcap of a two-night pair after Washington had won 4-2 in 12 innings.

At the moment, the Braves have a 49-38 record and are .005 percentage points behind the Giants. A year ago, after 87 games, the Braves also were second, with a 49-37 record one game was a tie.

Aaron and Ed Matthews, the big man in last year's attack, had six of the Braves' eight hits off Bob Mabe while rookie Carl Willey squared his record at 3-3 after losing there in a row. Matthews and Aaron singled and Matthews scored in the fourth, when Del Crandall's sacrifice fly scored Matthews with the clincher.

The Cards got only five hits off Willey, who had been blanked on two hits until Joe Cunningham traded and Stan Musial doubled in the sixth.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—I certainly didn't think last spring that we'd be leading the league in late July.

Billy Rigney, manager of the San Francisco Giants, was having one of those "be honest with yourself" sessions after the game with the Philadelphia Phillies was called off Tuesday night because of rain.

"I thought we had a first-class ball club, yes. But my rose colored glasses weren't rosy then as things are today," he said.

Rigney recollected that the Giants had been in sixth two years running and there was nothing to indicate the club would do more than improve to first division level.

Rigney still hasn't any illusions.

"It's going to be a tough fight to the finish and every club is dangerous. You can't go into any town in this league and think to yourself, 'Here we go! a breather!'"

Milwaukee, with its fine pitching, still is the team to beat, Rigney said. But he also has great respect for St. Louis and he feels the Los Angeles Dodgers are a much better club than their record shows.

SAWYER — SPORTS

Sawyer Takes Over Phils, Smith Fired

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ten years ago, less one day, Eddie Sawyer was hired to manage the Philadelphia Phillies. Tonight he takes over again as the Phils' field boss in one of those quick replacements by his predecessor.

General Manager Roy Hamey announced Tuesday that Mayo Smith, the man he personally brought up from the minors in 1925 to manage the Phils, was fired. Sawyer, who led the Phils to the National League pennant in 1930, was replacing him.

Sawyer has been out of the game since he was fired midway in the 1932 season for failing to win. How come, Hamey was asked, the Phils hired him?

"He had a good record and he knows the National League," replied Hamey.

Sawyer declined to make a thorough appraisal of his club until he's seen more of it. He explained he'd seen very few games this year, because he'd been so busy in his job as an executive with a golf ball manufacturing firm.

Smith said he felt no bitterness. He was sudden, but that's baseball, he said.

Smith was paid off for the rest of the season when his contract was to have expired. Sawyer was hired through the end of the 1938 season.

Yanks Power to Win, Lead Goes to 12

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

That American League "race" may be dull, but you can't say they're not trying to level things up as the New York Yankees romp along with a 12-game lead.

Take Tuesday night.

1. Cleveland's Vic Power missed most of the first game in a two-night double-header with Washington. He thought only a single game was scheduled. Washington took the opener 4-2 in 12 innings, but the Indians, with Power lining a two-run double, won the nightcap 5-3.

2. The Yankees clipped Detroit 13-3 as Bob Turley won his 15th, but the Yankees made it a bit out of the ordinary by getting 23 hits, high for the season in A.L.

3. Baltimore and the Chicago White Sox, running 1-2 in team fielding, booted the ball around for five unearned runs in a 4-2 Chicago victory.

4. Kansas City got only four hits, but beat Boston 4-3 on Hector Lopez' two-run, two-out homer in the ninth.

Only one game was played in the National League, Milwaukee defeated St. Louis 2-1.

Turley, who has lost but three, had a four-hitter and a 13-1 lead going into the ninth. Then the Tigers counted two on Gus Zernial's fifth homer and doubles by Frank Bolling and Tito Francona.

The White Sox jumped past the Tigers into fourth place as Billy Pierce, 10 games behind last year's 20-victory pace, won his 10th. He had a shutout for 8 2/3 innings, then needed Turk Lown's relief help when he walked two runs home after an error by shortstop Luis Aparicio. Jack Harshman (7-9) lost it, supplying the error that led to a three-run fourth.

Bob Cerv had an RBI single as the A's scored two in the first. But Tom Brewer (4-9) then blanked 'em on two hits until he gave up a two-out walk and Lopez' ninth homer. Tom Gorman (3-4) won it in relief of Murry Dickson, who gave up the Red Sox' runs on homers by Pete Rynn and Jackie Jensen.

Home runs by Norm Zabelin and Ken Aspromonte won the opener for the Senators and Dick Hyde (8-2). Cal McLish (8-6) went all the way for the Tribe. Indian manager Joe Gordon rushed Washington starter Camilo Pascual after he had split Gary Geiger's helmet with a pitch but was restrained before reaching the mound. Geiger wasn't injured seriously.

Fat Woodchick and Earl Averill, who beat the Nets in Washington last week, did it again in the nightcap. Woodchick gave up nine hits but gained a 2-0 record when Averill broke a 2-2 tie with a two-run single in the third.

Aaron Agrees Musial Hard to Beat Out

By CHUCK CAPALDO

Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals' Stan Musial and the Milwaukee Braves' Hank Aaron agreed that "The Man" is the man most likely to succeed in the race for the National League batting title.

They didn't forget Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants.

Aaron earned the right to talk of such majestic feats again by pushing his batting average over 1.300 Tuesday night for the first time this season.

He collected four singles in as many visits to the batter's box in the Braves' 2-1 decision over St. Louis and now is hitting .303, a climb of 71 points in the last two months.

Stan The Man is in the forefront with a mark of .357. Mays at .344 is second. Aaron right now is among the also rans.

"It's been a long pull," said Aaron referring to his elevation into the rarified air of the 300 hitters. "After you get 200 AB's and you're still hitting .250 you're in deep trouble."

"With anybody but Musial I'd have a chance," Aaron said. "That man's too good. He'll probably still be hitting .357 in September. Of course, there's Mays you know."

Musial was asked what he thought his chances were of winning his eighth batting championship and second in a row. He took the title last year with a .351 effort. Aaron won it the year before with an average of .328.

"I'm in a good spot," he said. "At this stage of the season I need only about a hit a game to maintain a good pace. Aaron would have to hit about .400 from here on in to wind up at .350 which I figure will be high enough to win. It's not impossible."

State Swimming, Diving Meet Planned

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—About 14 teams from throughout Arkansas were expected for the Arkansas Athletic Assn's 12th high school swimming and diving meet here today.

Eight teams had filed for the meet, to be held at War Memorial Park, by last night. They included Little Rock Central High School and Little Rock St. Mary's and teams from North Little Rock, Warren, Crossett, Wilson, Smackover, and Springdale.

Little Rock Central, defending champion, was favored to take the boys' Class AAA division and the girls' competition. Crossett won the Class A title last year but will be a contender, said Warren's swimmer and diver, the standing YMCA state champions.

North Little Rock and El Dorado placed second and third, respectively last year.

Chapter XXXIII

The sun came up in the heavens and the town of Great Plains slowly came to life. Men ventured upon the street. At six o'clock Riley Condon himself appeared, saw the bodies of the vigilantes lying out in the street and called some of his henchmen. They removed the bodies, taking them into the alley from where they would eventually be taken to "boot hill," the thriving new cemetery a half mile from town.

A couple of merchants opened their stores. Men passed Rosser, went into the hotel. Some of them had fresh bandages on their heads, their arms. Guests came appreciatively out of the hotel, surveyed the quiet street, then either went back inside or darted off to various destinations. Some of them went to Mary Dunley's restaurant.

At 10 minutes to seven, Susan Tavener came out of the hotel. She caught a sideways glimpse of Rosser standing beside the door. Then she stopped.

"Mr. Rosser," she said, her face a fiery crimson, "how can I get a gun?"

"Most any store," the hardware man said. He nodded toward Wendell Lewis's store. "Lewis carries a full line, unless he's given them all to the vigilantes."

"Vigilantes?"

"Haven't you heard about what happened this morning? Early."

She shuddered. "Yes, the—the waitress told me at breakfast. And Mr. Moody's been hurt."

"A gun may be a handy thing to carry around," said Rosser. "Even for a woman."

Her eyes dropped, then came up again to meet his. She said, "I think you know why I want a gun."

He was on the verge of asking her "Why?" but saw that she was determined to give him the answer, and actually preferred that she not be led into it. He waited for her to speak.

He said, "Your husband."

"To protect myself from Guy Tavener," she burst out, then fled.

Rosser was still looking after her when Josh Moody came out upon the veranda.

"I shall expect your room by noon," he said stiffly.

"You're going to press it?" Rosser asked.

"I am," Moody said stubbornly.

It was eight o'clock in the morning and Guy Tavener sat at his faro table, a glass of whiskey clenched in his fist, a half-empty bottle at his elbow. He had not slept, having been alerted along with the other gamblers and hangers-on of the Pleasure Palace. He had emptied his gun in the general direction of the ill-fated vigilante party, and he may even have hit a vigilante or two.

But he was not thinking of the vigilantes.

He was thinking of his wife and, mostly, he was thinking of himself.

He had been in other boom towns in the west. He had dealt faro in Dodge City, in Cheyenne and he had even taught the game to the Canadians during the building of their own transcontinental railroad.

Always before there had been a semblance of law and order. You carried a gun, but it wasn't often that you had to use it. There was always The Law in the crucial spots.

In Great Plains there was no law. There were men with badges, but they were hirelings of the lawless element, Tavener's own.

U. S., Britain May Recognize New Iraq Rule

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP) — Government officials reported today that Britain and the United States are consulting the Baghdad Pact allies on the question of recognizing the new Iraqi republic.

The officials here said Washington and London lean in favor of some form of recognition for the revolutionary regime but that Turkey, Iran and Pakistan are cool to the suggestion.

The informal exchanges on the question of recognition have assumed special urgency because the premiers of the Baghdad Pact nations are scheduled to meet in London next week. Secretary of State Dulles will represent the United States, which is not a member of the alliance but serves on its committees.

The new Iraqi regime has not officially renounced membership in the pact, but its alliance with President Nasser's United Arab Republic was accepted as an indication of a new foreign policy line. Nasser is vehemently opposed to the Baghdad Pact, of which Iraq was the only Arab member.

Spokesmen for the revolutionary regime have insisted, however, they want to be friends with the West. The United States and Britain apparently see some hope that a friendship can be maintained.

Turkey, Iran and Pakistan are reported strongly opposed to recognizing a regime that seized power by force and is politically hostile to all the Baghdad alliance stands for.

News Briefs

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. of Akron, Ohio has chosen the Green County-Crowley's Ridge Soil Conservation District as the outstanding district in Arkansas. Curtis Cruse of Paragould and Raymond Earls of Rector were named as individual winners. For the state in the nationwide soil conservation contest.

BENTON, Ark. (AP) — International Paper Co. plans to build a loading yard in the southeast section of Benton. Shipments of timber will be sent from the yard to the company's mills.

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — Plans have been announced for the 74th annual Methodist camp meeting at Davidson camp ground near here. The meeting will start Aug. 15.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — TAM Fertilizer Carriers, Inc., of Corns filed articles of incorporation here yesterday. The firm said it was starting with $25,000 in capital and would issue 1,000 shares of common stock with a par value of $25.

Trade Power Limit Finds Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate supporters of reciprocal trade concentrated their efforts today on defeating an effort to limit President Eisenhower's powers over tariffs.

They spoke hopefully of passing by tonight a bill to extend the 24-year-old trade program, leaving it up to a later Senate-house conference committee to agree on more liberal terms than those recommended by Senate Finance Committee. The House had voted substantially what Eisenhower asked.

The major Senate test shaped up over a committee proposal to strip the President of his power to override Tariff Commission recommendations for higher tariffs or import quotas.

The nightly noise usually means the rebels are exploding dynamite bombs in their terror campaign and that government security forces are replying with rifle fire.

A Marine officer said that closer liaison with Lebanese army units had stopped some of the sniping that has been going on around the Marine positions.

Lebanese forces have moved into previously unpatrolled high ground around the airport, forcing snipers farther back. As a result, no new reports of attacks on American planes have been reported.

Four to Testify in Textile Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four more persons were summoned today to tell a House Armed Services subcommittee what they know about a government penalty settlement with a New England textile firm.

The subcommittee wants to find out whether Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's top aide, exerted any pressure in behalf of Raylaine Worsted, Inc., of Manchester, N. H. That firm last year received a rebate of $11,294 from a 10-year-old penalty payment.

Roswell M. Austin, retired chairman of the Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals, has said he thinks Adams intervened improperly in the case.

LANDED LIGHTHOUSE—Once located a full mile offshore in Lake Champlain, north of Burlington, Vt., the Colchester Reef Lighthouse, above, is now part of the Shelburne (Vt.) Museum. This lighthouse, built in 1871, is believed to be the only one that has been dismantled in its entirety, moved several miles, and re-erected—this time on dry land.

GUEST SPEAKER at Hope Gospel Tabernacle Sunday, July 27, will be the Rev. Robert L. Cobb, missionary to Nigeria, West Africa, the Rev. W. C. Lamb, pastor, said today. Mr. Cobb will relate experiences and progress of the Assemblies of God missions in Nigeria, where he went in 1950. He is currently visiting various churches stressing the need of work in West Africa. The public is invited to both the 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. services Sunday when the Rev. Mr. Cobb speaks.

VICTORY ASSURED—Adolfo Lopez Mateos, a former law professor, is the presidential candidate of Mexico's Party of Revolutionary Institutions. Being nominee of the dominant PRI party is almost tantamount to election in July. Considered neither pro-American or anti-American, Mateos has openly advocated foreign investment in his country.

Oklahoma Picks Edmondson, Nigh

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — By a record vote, Oklahoma Democrats yesterday picked a 32-year-old county prosecutor and a 31-year-old bachelor school teacher as nominees for governor and lieutenant governor.

And this virtually assured J. Howard Edmondson the chief executive's office the next four years and the No. 2 state post for George Nigh.

Although both face Republican and independent opposition in November in the general election, Oklahoma has never elected any Democrat for its top state offices.

Edmondson, whose own supporters called his first primary election "a political miracle," beat millionaire businessman W. R. (Bill) Atkinson by 203,700 votes of 310,000.

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — Dr. W. S. McVint, former pediatric instructor at Henderson State Teachers College, reports that a sample of ore taken from a farm near here contains uranium.

Leaders See Agreement on Trade Bill

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders predicted today that the reciprocal trade extension bill will emerge from conference with the House in a form satisfactory to President Eisenhower.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd, (D-Va.) who will head the Senate conference, told a reporter, "I am sure we will work out a bill that will be fully acceptable to the President."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) said the conference might come up with the full five-year extension asked by the President. If not, he said they surely will agree on four.

The Senate Tuesday night passed a three-year extension measure 72-16 after five days of debate.

The body rolled up a smashing 63-27 bipartisan vote to give Eisenhower a major victory in his fight to retain his power to override Tariff Commission recommendations for quotas and higher tariffs.

But the leaders on both sides who cooperated to achieve this did not call for any other floor tests on provisions put into the bill by the Senate Finance Committee over administration opposition.

They preferred instead to iron these out in conference. The House passed the measure 317-98 last month in a form which met all Eisenhower's specifications.

Under present law, the President can and sometimes does override a Tariff Commission recommendation for relief to an industry claiming damage from foreign imports.

But under the provision the Senate rejected, his decision against such a recommendation would not have prevailed unless a majority of both branches of Congress passed a resolution backing him.

The Senate action meant a return to present law. But the House put in its bill a provision allowing Congress to receive the President in such a case by a two-thirds vote of each branch, and this may be restored in conference. It is acceptable to Eisenhower.

Trouble Starts as He Drops His Pipe

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Aubrey Newman, 53, dropped his pipe Tuesday night and the fire department had to be called out.

The pipe didn't start a fire. As Newman reached for it, he fell forward and jammed his head between two iron bars in a porch railing.

Firemen pried the bars apart and freed him. He found his pipe.

GOVERNOR FAUBUS: MAN OF THE PEOPLE

HIS STAND AGAINST FORCED INTEGRATION

Governor Faubus' courageous stand against forced integration has attracted widespread editorial comment recently. Here are a few examples:

From the PEORIA (ILLINOIS) JOURNAL STAR

U. S. District Judge Harry J. Lemley in his Little Rock decision last week said, in effect, that Governor Faubus was right . . . (He) said that Little Rock needed a peaceful interlude so that "the unfortunate racial strife and tension" of the city could be quieted down. Governor Faubus said the same thing. There is now at least a question whether the Northern extremists who so furiously lambasted Governor Faubus last year were not more harmful to the cause of racial amity than Mr. Faubus was.

From the NASHVILLE (TENNESSEE) BANNER

If Little Rock proved anything (and surely it has, as manifested in the cooling processes even at Washington) it must have been that coercion by intemperate devices breeds tempest beyond cure; that neither bayonets nor Pulitzer prizes waved at sovereign people can dissuade their assertion of and insistence on RIGHT—fundamental among which is that of running their own business.

From the DALLAS (TEXAS) MORNING NEWS

What this gets down to is that the United States District Court is recognizing that Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas was correct in anticipating trouble in Little Rock when integration was originally decreed, in the absence of any United States statute and in the absence of any Arkansas statute commanding integration.

From the SHREVEPORT (LOUISIANA) JOURNAL

The ruling by Judge Lemley proves again that Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas was right last September in using National Guard troops to block integration and thereby preserve peace and order at the school.

It's Courage that counts

My position on forcible integration of schools or other facilities has been publicly stated on numerous occasions. It is unnecessary now to elaborate. I stand now and always in opposition to integration by force, and at bayonet point. This is a democracy—the people should have a voice in their affairs, and the constitutional provisions of this government should remain inviolate. Arkansas has a long record of friendly relations between the races, and these relations should not be disturbed by outside influences as has been the case in recent months. I have taken my position in the protection and defense of the people of Arkansas in your constitutional right to govern yourselves in state and local affairs. From this position, I shall not recede nor yield.
